The LEIPZIG CARD

Prices and Validity

The LEIPZIG CARD is just the ticket! Valid for one or three days, and for individuals or groups, the LEIPZIG CARD is the ideal way to explore the city.

Get to know this boomtown famous for music, culture and the arts with a guided tour – on foot, by coach or on the “Grand Leipzig Tram Sightseeing Tour”. When you’re feeling peckish, take advantage of the special offers available with the LEIPZIG CARD at a number of Leipzig restaurants. Afterwards you might like to visit the Tourist Information, some of the specially selected shops, one of Leipzig’s museums and exhibitions, or Leipzig Zoo with the Gondwanaland Tropical Experience. Of course, you can also take a boat trip on Leipzig’s waters.

And following a busy sightseeing programme, what better way to round off the day than by visiting the Gewandhaus, Leipzig Opera or Centraltheater, perhaps the Krystallpalast Variété theatre, the Moritzbastei (Europe’s largest student club) or even a satirical revue – all at reduced prices. The LEIPZIG CARD also gives benefits for the concerts of the Leipzig Bachfest or the Mendelssohn Festival and the events at Gohlis Palace or at the University of Music and Theatre. Of course, the LEIPZIG CARD also allows free travel on all trams and buses run by transport operator LVB within the city limits (except special routes).

To ensure your visit is a success, we’ve listed all the prices, discounts and other information on the LEIPZIG CARD on this handy leaflet. Happy exploring!

Important advices

Please note that the LEIPZIG CARD is only valid once you have signed it and entered the date of first use on LVB public transport. It may not be used on the local railway network run by DB AG. Please present the LEIPZIG CARD before ordering in restaurants.

If the price of the LEIPZIG CARD rises, any LEIPZIG CARDS already purchased shall only be valid for a period of three months following the price increase.

Day ticket €8.90 valid for one person

3-day ticket €18.50 valid for one person

3-day group ticket €34.00 valid for 2 adults and up to 3 children (under 14) on 3 successive days

Public Transport

Free travel on all trams and buses (except special routes) run by Leipzig’s transport operator LVB within the city limits (Zone 110). One-day LEIPZIG CARDS are valid from 9am until 4am the following day. Three-day LEIPZIG CARDS for individuals and groups are valid from 9am on the first day until midnight at the end of the third day.

What benefits does the LEIPZIG CARD offer?

There are 100 ways to use your LEIPZIG CARD: travel free on the trams and buses of Leipzig transport operator LVB within the city limits (Zone 110) with the exception of special routes. In addition you can enjoy cut-price walking, bike, coach and tram tours as well as boat trips. The LEIPZIG CARD also allows free entry or up to 50% discounts on admission to museums, not to mention reductions on ticket prices for festivals, concerts, variety theatre and social/political satire performances. Last but not least, discounts are also available at restaurants, shops, the souvenir shop at the Tourist Information, at leisure centres, and on boat hire.

Where can I buy the LEIPZIG CARD?

The LEIPZIG CARD is available at the Tourist Information, LVB's Mobility Centre, LVB Service Center at Wilhelm-Leuschner-Platz (Petersstraße / corner of Markgrafenstraße), Lake Auensee Campsite, Lake Kulkwitz Campsite, many Leipzig hotels, tour operators, as well as www.leipzig.de, www.leipzig.travel and www.leipzig-card.de. Tour operators are requested to directly contact the tourism marketing department of Leipzig Tourismus und Marketing GmbH.

How can I find out more?

For more information about the LEIPZIG CARD, special events, maps of Leipzig and entertainment listings, just contact Leipzig Tourismus und Marketing GmbH.

NB:

The publication of this leaflet supersedes all previous leaflets on the LEIPZIG CARD. Subject to alterations. Should any of the institutions listed here change their prices, LEIPZIG CARD holders will be entitled to the new reductions which come into effect.
